

Accelerate time to business results with superb facilitation skills

Tailor-made facilitation skills training solutions

Virtual, face-to-face, online – or a combination

If you're like most organizations, you're constantly looking for ways to get faster and better results from the meetings you run. And as gas prices continue to spiral out of control, you're probably also exploring alternatives to costly face-to-face meetings.

Guided Insights can help. We deliver facilitation skills training to best meet your unique needs, whether onsite at your location, via interactive remote meeting, or some combination.

We'll work with you to create a cost-effective, efficient and high-quality solution. Here are some of our most popular options:

- From Good to Great: Two-day onsite facilitation skills training that covers both face-to-face and virtual facilitation, designed for those with some experience or training
- Bridging the Distance: Series of two-hour interactive workshops where we model best practices for designing and running virtual meetings. Topics include Leading Remote Teams, Planning and Running Effective Virtual Meetings and Building Trust Across Borders.
- Facilitation and meeting design services: We'll help you design and lead one of your own meetings, in-person or virtual, to provide on-the-job learning that can be applied for future meetings, face-to-face or virtual
- Tips guides and reference material: A wealth of practical and easy to use tips and techniques that can be easily applied to real-life situations

If you want to get better ROI from your meeting time and to minimize the need for costly in-person meetings, give us a call or drop us an email so we can explore the best solutions for you.
